

This is “Acknowledgments”, article 1 from the book Writers' Handbook (index.html) (v. 1.0).

This book is licensed under a Creative Commons by-nc-sa 3.0 (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/3.0/>) license. See the license for more details, but that basically means you can share this book as long as you credit the author (but see below), don't make money from it, and do make it available to everyone else under the same terms.

This content was accessible as of December 29, 2012, and it was downloaded then by Andy Schmitz (<http://lardbucket.org>) in an effort to preserve the availability of this book.

Normally, the author and publisher would be credited here. However, the publisher has asked for the customary Creative Commons attribution to the original publisher, authors, title, and book URI to be removed. Additionally, per the publisher's request, their name has been removed in some passages. More information is available on this project's attribution page (http://2012books.lardbucket.org/attribution.html?utm\_source=header).

Acknowledgments

I'd like to recognize

- Ellen McPeck Glisan for her extensive work helping to create an early sketch and draft of significant portions of the book;
- Carol Whitney for her early project management expertise;
- Michael Boezi for his early encouragement of this project and his consistent enthusiasm for it throughout;
- Jeff Shelstad for taking the time to talk with my department in January of 2009;
- Eric Frank for his vision for the future of textbooks and higher education;
- Pam Hersperger for her steady editorial hand and command of the complicated process of putting a book like this together;
- Claire Hunter for her editorial assistance and encouragement;
- Stacy Claxton, Christina Chimi, Elvis Ramirez, and the copy editors and formatting experts at Scribe;
- Kelly McDonald, Jen Welchans, Brett Sullivan, and others at Unnamed Publisher who have helped to get the word out about this book and the concepts behind it;
- my colleagues in composition at J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College, across the commonwealth of Virginia, and around the country;
- my family for their patience with my monomaniacal devotion to this project; and
- my students, who inspire me every day with their courage and determination to make a better life for themselves, their families, and their communities.

The author and Unnamed Publisher would like to acknowledge the following reviewers:

- Miranda S. Miller
Gillette College
- Melanie Jenkins
Snow College
- Jon Zonderman
